Born in 1993 in Islamabad, the Capital of Pakistan, we enjoy the abundance of different projects like Education, Protection of the Environment, Awareness in the Youth of Pakistan regarding new trends in Information Technology, Peace and

It offers seminars, conferences and training, organize dialogue, workshops, and facilitate visits by international scholars for exchange of information and knowledge. Researchers worldwide are welcome to share their knowledge and expertise with INSPAD.

it also helps in take research queries and provide answers from a panel of International Advisory Council comprising eminent worldwide experts in the related fields.

b) Project description: -

INSPAD is introducing its new scholarship program for the orphan and the students who are in need of good quality study and can move forward in life and society.

INSPAD will provide quality of education and financially viable to the students from 5th to 8th academic year. The scholarship is currently available for the students on our website.

INSPAD Sponsor scholarship programme for students' education to complete their academic years and help them in to build up their future careers. INSPAD provides scholarships to encourage outstanding students and facilitate orphan/talented/deserving students who face financial constraints. Check all of the requirements for a scholarship before applying to be sure you're eligible. The more qualified you are for a scholarship, the more likely you are to win.

c) objective of the Project

INSPAD objective is to give Merit Based scholarships and it will be given to the students showing better academic performance. It also includes;

- Quality of education
- Financially viable
- Multicultural society
- Quality of living.

INSPAD provides opportunities to talented but financially deprived students and empower them to acquire a high-quality education at a reputed Public. Scholalreships go further than being financial aid for many students. They reward deserving students with the ability to afford higher education.

The main aim of the scholarship is to make education available for every student despite their financial status. Millions of students are benefited from various. The project will provide scholarships to 100 needy school and college going students to help them complete their education.Scholarships build community support and bring more individuals into contact with companies that may not otherwise be aware of them. The importance Of Scholarship for a financially poor, orphan or middle-class family is a fantastic option.

There are several sorts of scholarships that students or organizations can apply for. Several of these are defined on INSPAD website. The following are some frequent examples:

Academic / Merit: Students who may be eligible for a scholarship to a certain from 5th to 8th grade class students for this programme.

Students who are orphan and cannot afford the high fees are seek, financial aid in order to pursue a vocation that requires several years of study. Scholarships emerge as the most preferred kind of financial help in this situation.

Obtaining a scholarship eliminates any financial problems. As a result, you will have more time to study, develop information, and improve your grades. You have plenty of time to explore possibilities to improve your skills and knowledge. Because scholarships are so important to so many students, you should seek colleges and institutions that provide them. Apply for them and put your best foot forward to get the most money for your college education.

d) Project Work Plan

Planning a school project can be an easy and streamlined task if the planning and implementation are well organized and well thought out in advance. To establish clear lines of communication and coordination of work with facilitator leads and school leaders. A work plan is the most important document for a project from the execution point of view and it must be prepared before starting work on a project.
